FIRST ENTRIES IN CONTEST

"Patrick," the handsome little Shetland pony which is to be given away at Wright's store, has created much desire in the hearts of the children. The contest is just beginning and the store extends an invitation to every boy and girl in Weber, Box Elder and Davis counties to enter the race. In another part of this paper is printed one of the coupons which are used in entering. The same coupons may be had at the store. They are free for the asking and each entry is allowed fifty votes to begin.

The contest will be short, ending in the middle of August, so that it will be only about six weeks before some happy boy or girl will be driving the playful pony, "Patrick."

The contestants will make a canvass of their friends and neighbors, asking them to secure the votes when they trade at either of the Wright's stores and to give them to the contestant or place them in the ballot box. With every 10-cent purchase one vote is given—ten votes with a dollar, excepting in the case of Pony hose, and with every pair of Pony hose six votes will be given. This is done because the markers of Pony hose pay part of the cost of the pony.

The contest will be friendly, fair and impartial, and the winner will be the child who shows the most activity. There is absolutely no cost to any one, and parents should encourage the children to try.

Any of those who enter may take "Patrick" out for a drive if they will make arrangements at the store. Following is the list of entries at present. Other entries will be published later:

BEET CROP HAS BEEN HELD BACK

J. L. Robson of Plain City claims that the farm districts were greatly benefited by the recent rain, but it will be necessary to get more moisture from the clouds for some of the sugar beet fields. In some instances the tender plants have not yet made their appearance, a slight crust having formed on the surface. Irrigation has begun in some sections.

It is said by beet growers that it is the tenderest plant known to the fields, and as one farmer put it, "almost as difficult to get started as it is to raise turkeys."

Once well out of the ground and having taken on the fourth leaf, it is among the toughest and hardiest of plants. It is anticipated, however, that there will be a fairly good yield of beets this season.

A conference of shipwrights and kindred trades in Germany decided to advise their members to amalgamate with the woodworkers.

A. R. HEYWOOD BACK FROM THE SOUTH

Judge A. R. Heywood and wife returned yesterday from a three weeks' trip through Texas, well pleased with the outing. They attended the Shriners' convocation at Dallas May 12, and 14, and from there visited the larger cities.

The Shriners were given 1000 miles of free transportation from Dallas and many of them left the city May 15 for a trip over the country, visiting the state capital, old San Antonio, Houston and Galveston, Mr. and Mrs. Heywood going on to New Orleans.

"Texas is a great state," said Judge Heywood this morning, "and the people there are great. You should see the vast expanse of good roads and stop at the excellent hotels to know something of the country. I never saw finer hotels and the roads are perfect. To visit Texas is an eye opener to the average person, and Ogden could well take a leaf from the books of some of those cities, even old San Antonio, when it comes to building and doing things. We should get busy and do things as they do down in that country."

Ogden is in a better financial condition than most of the cities in the south and there is no reason why greater things should not be accomplished if we only get at it. Money is close and hard to get hold of in the south, and the Wilson administration is not helping things any. The south is making a mighty strong fight against free wool and free sugar, the latter in particular, and they are exercising greater influence on congress than is understood. Colorado, too, is making a great fight against free trade in those commodities.

At San Antonio, the Heywoods met Emily Carroll, formerly of this city, and they say he looks well and is prosperous. They also met Charles D. Golden at Houston who once resided in Ogden. He is in the hardware business in that city and is among the most influential business men. He entertained Mr. Heywood and wife and was glad to hear from Ogden.

From New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Heywood started home by way of Colorado. The judge is improved in health and both he and Mrs. Heywood greatly enjoyed the trip.

ASSAULTED WRONG MAN.

Elko, Nev., March 27.—Saturday night two unknown men attacked and brutally beat up a Western Pacific brakeman by the name of L. D. Stockton in the yards at this place. He was called to go out with a freight train shortly before 10 o'clock and getting his lantern started for the roundhouse to get the engine. When opposite the coal dock two men stepped out of the shadows and striking him on the head with an instrument of some kind knocked him down, when both began kicking the prostrate man until he became unconscious. He was found about 1 o'clock by two strangers who were coming up town, and between them they took him to the Starr hotel, where he roomed. He could throw no light on the assault.

but said that he believed that the two men were tramps who had been ejected from a freight train, and were lying in wait for the brakeman who had thrown them off, and when he came along they mistook him for their victim. A physician was called yesterday who found that several ribs had been broken and that the head and shoulders were covered with bruises.

BROKEN FLANGE IS

CAUSE OF WRECK

Salt Lake, May 27.—Six carloads of coal and coke were piled with the cars in a promiscuous heap near Riter on the Salt Lake route at 8 o'clock yesterday forenoon. The six loads were part of an extra train working between Salt Lake City and Tooele, handling coke and coal for the International Smelting company at Tooele. A broken flange caused the cars to leave the rails, no one being on any of them at the time. Although the cars were pretty well piled up, only one, a wooden car, was damaged to any extent. Most of the damage was in the delay caused by having to detour the trains of the company over the Western Pacific until 6 o'clock in the afternoon, when the track was cleared.
